Dissemination of CIA Information ReportsPOLICY

1. It is the policy of the CIA that the dissemination of its information reports must meet the following stipulations:

- a. Only those who need to know rather than those who desire to know will be informed.
- b. Raw or semi-finished intelligence will be released only to those governmental agencies having an intelligence organization.

PROCEDURES

2. To implement the above policy the following principles are set forth:

a. The dissemination of unvaluated information reports should be limited to the IAC agencies, except as provided in the below (Unvaluated information is herein-after defined as raw intelligence material ordinarily issued by OO/C and OSO.)

b. Dissemination of unvaluated information reports within IAC agencies will be on the basis of two categories:

(1) Those reports which may receive broad dissemination within the IAC agency. 14 OCT 1970
DOCUMENT PROVIDED FOR INFORMATION (u)

(2) Those reports which will have a limited dissemination within the IAC agency because of local IAC agency responsibility and sensitivity of source. These reports will be distributed not through reading panel units but through one officer designated by each IAC agency and shall be in a separate report series.

3. The implementation of these principles will be as follows:

a. The collecting office, i.e., OC/C or CSO will be responsible for the placing of special control statements on those reports which must be restricted within the IAC agencies because of the sensitive nature of the sources. All such reports should bear a notation similar to the following: "This report is for the information and use of the following named individuals only. It will receive no further dissemination either written or oral without concurrence of the Central Intelligence Agency through the Assistant Director, Office of Collection and Dissemination."

b. ORE and OSI will be responsible for editing finished or semi-finished intelligence reports to eliminate any possibility of jeopardy of source by examination of contents.

c. Dissemination of <sup>unclassified</sup> ~~current~~ information reports to non-IAC agencies should be recommended by the collection office and decided on a need to know basis. OGD, however, shall not change this distribution without prior consultation with the collection office. Such dissemination should be restricted to specific individuals in non-IAC agencies who have been specifically cleared and instructed by I&S, with a notation that there will be no further dissemination.

d. I&S in the case of non-IAC agencies will be responsible for the issuance of security policies to OGD to guide it in its dissemination actions.
